Greetings From Administration

Mr.Cameron

This time of year brings mixed emotions. There is an air of excitement, as we look forward to new things to come. There is also a pang as we reflect upon things that are slipping into our past, as we move beyond what made this year so special. Friendships, events and accomplishments become part of that which has made us who we are today. We now share fond memories of our time together and dream of future adventures that might only be shared through catching up on the news of each other.

The Terry Fox Run, Fine Arts Night and Multi-Cultural week are some of the more public reminiscences we have in common, but there are countless more private moments that we have shared with friends, family and staff. These are the thoughts that will bind us together for years to come. This book becomes the portal through which we revisit our past and reconsider our futures. We have contributed to the collective culture that is the Edith Rogers community. Use it well, and when you skim through these pages again, contemplate what you have gained from it. Ask good questions: Have the dreams you envisioned now come true as you would have hoped? What have you had to change to meet your goals? How have you adapted your actions or reshaped your expectations to align with what you are encountering? Have you become a person you can respect? How are you helping the world? What are your next steps? How well do your friends support your evolution? What price do you need to pay for your imaginings to come to fruition?

Thank you for a great year! You have made us a proud part of your past. Enjoy your future!

Valedictorian Speech

Mr.Cameron, Teachers, Parents, Guests and Fellow Students:

Today we are here to celebrate the laughter, tears, homework and memories that we have made over the past three years. Although some of us may have found these past years to be slightly painful we must remember all the great times we have had at Edith Rogers.

Throughout junior high, many of us at one time or another may have felt scared, confused, or intimidated. Yet in the midst of the emotional storm of negativity we always felt a sense of comfort and confidence, thanks to three things: Our teachers, our parents and our friends. Without these people junior high could have felt impossible at times. With the support of the teachers, the love from our families, and the empathy from our friends, junior high didnt hurt so much.

Our teachers...we have learned many things from the staff at Edith Rogers. Ms.Gordon taught many of us what the square root of 25 is. Ms.Johnson taught us how to recycle glass, after she broke a Florence flask. Ms.Goulden gave us a first aid lesson while trying to stop her nose from bleeding...and Mr.Petruk introduced us to the brave firemen of division 21 when he let the fog machine get out of control at the Christmas dance. But seriously our teachers didnt only teach us the curriculum, they also taught us that they are people who we can trust, admire and look up to as a friend. Im sure all teachers do not hear this enough, but at this time, on behalf of the students, I would like to thank you for the incredible effort that you put in year after year, and I want to assure you that although you will soon be out of our sight, you will not be out of our minds.

Our families...we have relied on our parents for a great deal of things over the past three years, whether it is help with our school work, encouragement in our extra-curricular activities or especially when it comes to paying our monthly cell phone bills. Although we dont always agree with the decisions our parents make, we do know that they are trying to protect us, and raise us to be the best that we can be. We also understand that they do give in to us a lot, whether its letting us have a bunch of friends spend the night, driving us to a shopping mall at a moments notice or letting us host parties, Im sure that they do this just to see the excitement it brings to us. Although we may forget to thank our parents from time to time, I hope they realize how much we appreciate what they do for us. Like my Daddy always says, Friends come and go, family is forever!!

Our friends...the people who have made coming to school each day that much easier. Whether talking about the latest gossip, laughing at our lame jokes, giving us a shoulder to cry on or just being a buddy to hang out with our friends are always there. It saddens me to think that next year we might not be in the same classes, or at the same schools, but when friendship is strong, it can last through even the roughest storms

So now instead of Good-bye I say See you later. I challenge each and every one of you to go forth and make your very own positive mark on society, take not only the formal education that you received but also the informal lessons taught to you everyday by your friends, family and teachers. Show the rest of the world the wonderful and admirable people that I have had the honor of knowing everyday.

I want to congratulate all of the grade 9 graduates on three successful years of school. I hope your dreams take you to the corners of your smiles to the highest of your hopes to the windows of your opportunities and the most special places that your heart has ever known.

I leave you with a quote by Richard Bach--Dont be dismayed at good-byes, a farewell is necessary before you can meet again, and meeting again after moments or lifetimes is certain for those who are friends.

Good night and see you later---Kaylie Huber
